Oakwood College Offering Scheduled Sabbath, August 10 — Sabbath, August 10, is the date set for the annual Oakwood College at Huntsville, Ala., offering in all the churches in North America. In the past this offering has been one of the outstanding sources for the funds that have helped to make the fine advances it has.

The expansion program is being stepped up currently and a goal for $100,000 has been set as the objective for the 1963 offering. Oakwood is proud of the distinction which the record bears and for the growth and forward strides the school has made as an institution of the General Conference.

Today Huntsville, "The Space City of the World' is a thriving metropolis. Its growth has been phenomenal. The city line has been extended to within 300 feet of the college gate.

Formerly a plantation the school property purchased in 1896 is now a Christian College with almost 1,000 acres. This school has educated and trained more workers now serving the regional conferences than any school in the denomination.

Last year the woman's dormitory was overcrowded. Enrollment statistics would indicate this year instead of the situation being remedied we shall have to face a more acute housing problem.

It is the aim of the entire faculty to make Oakwood College a true center of Christian education where young men and women will be proud to matriculate.

It is hoped that the goal set by the General Conference for $100,000 will not only be reached but surpassed.
